

Lighthouses along the Rivers of Steel

Reflections of Michigan train depots

An engaging look at one of America's most recognizable and romantic building types. The train depot in a Michigan town was the center of commerce, information and transportation.

Join preservation architect Ron Campbell, AIA, as he relates the history of the depots - large and small - that were the country's first corporate building style. Learn how they evolved to become the landmark of a community - sometimes wearing a witch's hat.

Why did Birmingham get a depot and not Bloomfield? Ron will answer that question as well as recall the memories and explore the future legacy of these lighthouses along the rivers of steel.

[Dave Fulkert coll.]

Birmingham's first depot c.1890

Bloomfield Historical Society

www.bloomfieldhistoricalsociety.org

Our Local History/
Local Resources
Program Series

Open to the public
at no charge

SUNDAY,
April 29, 2012
3 to 4:30 p.m.

Leslie H. Green Community
Room
1099 Lone Pine Road
Bloomfield Township MI
48302
www.btpl.org
Questions? contact the
Library: 248.642.5800

Lighthouses along the Rivers of Steel

Reflections of Michigan train depots

An engaging look at one of America's most recognizable and romantic building types. The train depot in a Michigan town was the center of commerce, information and transportation.

Join preservation architect Ron Campbell, AIA, as he relates the history of the depots - large and small - that were the country's first corporate building style. Learn how they evolved to become the landmark of a community - sometimes wearing a witch's hat.

Why did Birmingham get a depot and not Bloomfield? Ron will answer that question as well as recall the memories and explore the future legacy of these lighthouses along the rivers of steel.

[Dave Fulkert coll.]

Birmingham's first depot c.1890

Bloomfield Historical Society

www.bloomfieldhistoricalsociety.org

Our Local History/
Local Resources
Program Series

Open to the public
at no charge

SUNDAY,
April 29, 2012
3 to 4:30 p.m.

Leslie H. Green Community
Room
1099 Lone Pine Road
Bloomfield Township MI
48302
www.btpl.org
Questions? contact the Library: 248.642.5800