

Join the Bloomfield Historical Society on a ride through history.

Are you curious about the history of the Bloomfield area?

What was life like in 1830 when the census showed only 30 families living in the area?

How did we change from a community of farms and orchards to become home to some of the most important industrialists and philanthropists in the 20th Century?

Who we are:

Founded in 2004, we came together because of our interest in the history of the Bloomfield area and the people who've played a part in making it what it was — and is today.

What we do:

We respond to the curiosity of our members. We co-sponsor a series of programs centered on our local history. We raise awareness of Bloomfield's past to inform its future through our website.
